The Catholic Community Foundation (CCF) is a separate Archdiocesan Foundation set up specifically to hold endowments created by Archdiocesan faithful, parishes and schools. The endowments, which are assets of the foundation, may also have split-interest type arrangements with Archdiocesan parishes, schools, and entities.

The creation of a CCF endowment must be formally approved and subject to the guidelines established by the Investment Committee of the Archdiocese. The following policy and procedures identify when split-interest arrangements exist between CCF and parishes, schools, or other Archdiocesan entities.
